Fund Drive Revamped

The initiation of "U-Nite," part of a complete and sweeping improvement of the Arlington Heights United Fund Drive for 1946.

United Fund President John Gillis and U-Nite will be held on Oct. 24. All efforts will be pointed toward making enough workers to aid needy homes in the village, he said.

Homes will be assigned to a specific block worker and the campaign chairman will use electronic data processing and the telephone to make the most effective use of the organization's phone calls, Gillis said.

"We have studied the most successful campaigns in the northwest suburbs," said Ridge. "They raise significantly more money than a smaller population, and do most of it in just one night."

Another feature of the Park Ridge campaign that the Arlington Heights United Fund will adopt is to raise money for heart, cancer and other health centers.

"We intend to include these items in our 1946 campaign so that Arlington Heights residents can give to all once a year -- the true 'United Fund way' of giving," said Gillis.

The Arlington Heights United Fund Board will distribute such funds to appropriate health research centers.

"UNITED" promotions will be made to local organizations during September and October -- school groups, homeowners groups, business, club and social clubs.

The Arlington Heights United Fund will be part of the Metro Campaign, combining Chicago and most of the suburbs.

Stolen Red Wagon Is Meaneast Deed

The red wagon, 1937, was reported to Daniel Weber, 7 of 16 E. Euclid.

Daniel and his sister Sarah, 12, were absent Friday afternoon in the store at 125 N. Van. When they returned they were outside to discover the wagon was not where they had left it.

"It was a long while before I saw it," said Mrs. Weber, "but the incident really made me mad."

Robert Hoffman, owner of the home, told police he and his family returned from an outing to find the wagon riddled.

Police said they have been looking for the wagon for two years which he spent in the Marines.

Robert Hoffman, owner of the home, told police he and his family returned from an outing to find the wagon riddled.

A paint canister, a diamond ring and several watches were among the items missing. Hoffman said about $240 in cash was missing.

Beck and Meloy suffered minor injuries.

Beck was driving with a child, 2, in the back seat. The car was in a narrow condition with a fractured leg. Hospital authorities Monday said the boy was being well.

Our Mail Service - Is It Good or Bad?

BY GEORGE HAMILTON
 In a recent mail, special delivery package bearing $6.40 postage took a week to arrive at THE DAY FROM HIGHLAND, Pa. Why the delay? The package was probably "lost" in the Washington, D.C., Post Office.

Problems in the Post Office

This is the first of a four-part series about the Arlington Heights Post Office. In it The Day will relate some of the problems of getting the right mail to the right person at the right place and time -- and what happens when things go "wrong."

The package came to The Day first to Arlington, Ill. 61312, as addressed. There it was marked "undelivered" and "returned" and then returned to Florida.

Apparently the plant mail clerk routed the package to Arlington Heights and the important, so mail, special delivery package finally reached its destination, a few days later.

SUPPLY Zinner and other Post Office clerks are not infrequently called on to check returned checks, delays and, in one instance, a pair of wedding shoes that were sent to that "other" 1500 mile away.

Concert In School Foyer Tonight

A new experience in concerts at Arlington High School will be presented tonight at 7 p.m. A musical concert will be given in the foyer of the school gymnasium.

Under the direction of Mrs. Beth Kirschoff, a "chamber" choir of 12 students will perform in Italian, French and English.

The students representing the concert are all first and second place winners of the state and local music contests, concert at Zion in April.

It, but getting the right destination the mail helps reduce the chances of error.

THERE ARE undoubtedly cases where mail addressed to the RIGHT town goes to the WRONG one.

On the morning of 25-day general the Arlington Heights Post Office handles 7,000,000 pieces of mail, affording a substantial opportunity for a few errors. Zinner estimates that the error rate is well below that of any business or industry.

Although the actual number of mistakes are probably never noticed or reported, Zinner points out that errors of only 1/100 of one per cent would have totaled 700 during that one 25-day period.

Of course, to the person or person it happens to, one mistake is too many.

One Arlington Heights resident, visited his days for a "Special Delivery" letter to get news from Detroit. What happened to the letter is the subject of the second part of this series.

Stonelight Lighting: 2 Choices

The type of street lights to be installed in the Stonegate area may be selected by the village board of trustees during the summer.

A committee report Thursday night recommended either mercury or "bronze" street lights for the area.

The committee report will include out comparative figures of the two kinds of proposed light-along with a statement of the relative position of the lights.

THE CIVIC association in Stonegate is circulating a copy of the committee's report in same time for them to respond to it at the second village board meeting in June, at 8 p.m. at the Stonegate Village Hall.

"Policemen say

—Senator John A. Graham
On the 56 State Senators, Sheriff Ogilvie chose me to sponsor his bill to resolve problems from the selection of Sheriff's policemen. This bill, and others I worked for in 1963, will make our police more effective in stopping the spread of crime from Chicago to the Suburbs. In 1963, as chairman of a special legislative investigating committee, I secured passage of legislation designed to rid the Metropolitan Sanitary District of hoodlums and their corrupt political cronies. Here at home, I have worked closely with local police and the Illinois Youth Commission to help stop the rising tide of juvenile delinquency. Reducing the crime rate—particularly among juveniles—is one of our most pressing problems. Can I have your help on June 14 at 8:00, together, we can continue to make strides in our ever escalating effort. Be about a leading Illinois State Senator

Rumsfeld Reports On Viet Nam Tour

There is no aid or even a military point to sight in the Viet Nam tour, reports Rep. Donald Rumsfeld (R-Ill.) who recently returned from a 16-day tour of the country. Rumsfeld reported Saturday gathered in his party house in Washington. "From what I saw, I have every reason to believe that Franklin Johnson plans to send another quarter of a million men there this year," he said. He found his observations on the buildup of troop quarters and supply warehouses in the country.

He was highly critical of the administration's handling of the war. "Either the President and the Secretary of Defense don't understand the situation in Viet Nam, or they are misreading it for psychological reasons," he said. "It is the administration should be more candid about the war."

Rumsfeld said that the military situation has improved slightly in the last few months but that the United States hasn't been able to provide protection for even one per cent of the Vietnamese people. "The Viet Cong are well entrenched," he said. "One proof of this is that they still take their rest in Saigon just like our side does."

BLISSFELD went to Viet Nam with a congressional subcommittee investigating the role military operations of the war. They met with top government and military leaders from May 6 to May 16.

Bill Means Seeks to Push His Cart All the Way to State Capital

By Catherine O'Donnell

Mr. Louis Campbell and her sister Nancy Campbell were recently driving along an Ohio road on their way to Arlington Heights. With them was Mrs. Campbell's two children...

They had traveled at least thirty miles when a patrol car came speeding along the side them. The officer ordered them to the side of the road.

"If there is any Campbell in this car," he asked. When they answered "yes," he turned to his car radio and carried on a conversation with someone.

The policeman turned back to them. "Mrs. Campbell," he said, "you've got both sets of the one keys with you. Your husband must not be hiding ones of them."

Who wants to know? As the car has been driven by both sets of the one keys, it is obvious that both sets of the one keys were used.

In Case of Mishap

First Aid Hints For Vacationers

Going on vacation? If so, some basic first aid tips from the UPHOON Co. may come in handy in case of mishap.

Sunburn and minor cuts, often mistaken while hiking or camping, should be cleaned of foreign matter or infection may result. If the wound isn't deep, the foreign material often can be washed away with soap and water.

If you can't clean the wound, get medical help. Once the wound is clean the doctor probably will treat it with an antibiotic, penicillin and cover it with a band-aid.

If your trip involves long car trips, or long rides, road motion sickness by reducing any jostling that might occur. A well rest, for example, is better than a hard one.

Aspirin will relieve discomfort, and the slightly more potent aspirin should drink plenty of water.

HEAT CRAMPS result when the body loses too much salt through perspiration. The remedy most often used is cooled salt tablets. If they are not available, drink a teaspoon of salt in a pint of water.

Heat exhaustion is characterized by a cold and clammy skin, weak pulse and shivering. The onset is dizziness, fatigue and weakness, and unconsciousness.

The best exhausted person should be placed in a cool area, propped with his head raised. His clothing should be loosened, and he should be fanned and covered on the forehead and wrists with cool, wet cloths. When he awakens, give him cool, sweetened drinks, preferably coffee, or tea.

SUNBURNING is far more serious than heat exhaustion, and a doctor should be summoned immediately. It can be recognized by very dry, red skin and a fever of as much as 106 degrees.

While waiting for medical help, place the patient in a tub of cold water—with cracks of ice, if possible.

If his temperature goes down to near normal, remove him from the tub and wrap him in sheets soaked in cold water and fan him.

If the high fever returns, put him back in the tub.

Follow these first aid hints, and you'll be on your way to today that's a gas, not a pain.

Another condition to guard against on vacation is stomach upset and its most common symptom, diarrhea.

These are standard remedies such as Kaopectate, but watch for persians or severe symptoms which may indicate food poisoning.

If you suspect food poisoning, find the nearest doctor immediately. Guard against Max Bull (right), outgoing president of Friends of Clearbrook, looks a little wistful at a Newport luncheon in June. Seated next to him is Mrs. Nevell Crockett.

The most common summer vacation ailments, severe sunburn, can be treated with effective antiseptics, like any other burn. Sunburn begins to fire before exposure to the sun, but doesn't have much remedial effect.

The group's new president, Mrs. Nevell Crockett, set aside her daughter, Chris, to attend the news.

Mr. Peterson is a volunteer worker at Clearbrook's shelter training center.

Talk centered around the new Clearbrook building at 3201 W. Campbell.

WORK ON the address is scheduled to begin in mid-summer.

Regular Clearbrook meetings are held on the first and third Tuesdays of each month.

Old and New Presidents Honored

BY JERILYN WATSON
Women's Editor

Members of Friends of Clearbrook, a fund-raising organization for the Clearbrook Center for the Retarded in Rolling Meadows, honored their outgoing president Thursday at a luncheon.

Rolling Green Country Club was the scene of the April party for Mrs. William Bull of Arlington Heights, retiring group president. Max Bull will move to Arlington in June.

Gifts were presented to Mrs. Bull at a cocktail hour, and she took the place of honor at the luncheon table before a large centerpiece of pink and red flowers.

SEATED next to Mrs. Bull was Mrs. Nevell Crockett, outgoing president of the group, which has 25 women members. Mrs. Crockett's daughter, Chris, made the toast.

Mr. Peterson is a volunteer worker at Clearbrook's shelter training center.

Talk centered around the new Clearbrook building at 3201 W. Campbell.

WORK ON the address is scheduled to begin in mid-summer.

Regular Clearbrook meetings are held on the first and third Tuesdays of each month.

Palatine Wins Local Track Title

Palatine's powerful track machine edged easily in the Mid-Suburban League title Saturday, 1969, in the 100-yard dash and taking half of a possible 14 first place points in the league's championship meet on the Forest oval.

MAINE WEST was sent in the distance race with 1 1/2 points, while Forest won the 220-yard dash with a third place finish and 24 1/2 points. Prospect was sent with 38 points in the 100-yard dash with 34, and Winthrop with 18 1/2. The three area schools managed only four first place finishes each, three by Forest. Forest's lone first place ribbon was earned by Paul Pat Davidson, who topped the 100-yard low hurdles competition with a 19.7 effort.

BUNNING had to settle for second in his other specialty through Jim Bill Bahadish, Palatine's quarter-mile champion against the 220-yard dash in 1:11. Bahadish was easily the best runner in the quarter-mile in a meet since '67. He is the holder of the state record in the event, 1:07.3. Prospect's Jack Peltier, who is definitely not a runner, finished third in the 220-yard dash and Prospect finished fourth. Prospect's other first place came in the 400-yard dash, as senior Paul Corbin and sophomore Paul Corbin both won. Prospect finished fourth in the 800-yard dash and Prospect finished fifth in the 1,600-yard dash. Prospect's Paul Davidson, who topped the 100-yard low hurdles competition with a 19.7 effort.

Keeping Score

WITH BOB CASTLEMAN

NORODY ASKED ME, BUT...
The time has come for the Day's sports department to take a hand in the naming of the new District 214 High school.

Enough of this debate about Slesinger, or, as it has become obvious the board isn't about to go for that. Instead, why not name the school after a prominent American, whose philosophy has stirred much debate and freed many minds from the shackles of tradition?

That would be, of course, Hugh Downs. Or, better yet, Ben Hunter.

If early American history is to be considered, how about calling the school the Arnold High, with the name named the Trustees?

Something contemporary of the kids would fit? How about Ring Starr High School, and the Beatles?

NORODY ASKED ME, BUT...
Wouldn't it be nice if there was some kind of baseball program in the area for the boys over 16 but not quite talented enough to make a league team?

And speaking of that, how much pressure is being brought to bear on St. Vlasar High School athletes to play on the team unofficially sponsored by the school, rather than the area league program?

Now that the Cubs have finally crushed the double-figure column in the win department, let's hope they stop talking about leading Billy Williams for anything less than Willie Mays and Jim Marichal.

NORODY ASKED ME, BUT...
Is there any night more ludicrous than a men in a business suit riding on a motor scooter with a crash-helmet on his head?

Look out for Northeast's American Legion baseball team, which will be competing this year in the same league with Arlington Heights and Mt. Prospect. It's the same gang of kids who just qualified for the state high school baseball tournament finals at Peoria this week.

How many girls get the same therapy because their backaches are caused by "menstrual cramps"? That's about all.

If they're really serious about training the new District 214 high school, what would be wrong with calling it Ernest Dorian High?

NORODY ASKED ME, BUT...
Haven't events proven that Ralph Hook is the best manager in major league baseball today?

Arlington's varsity track season ended on a dismal note Saturday when the Cardinals managed home debut in the West Suburban Conference championship meet at Hinsdale.

Forest View remains unbeaten in Saturday's mile relay event. The Palatine took third in the event and third in the meet.

Chris Bergquist of Hinsdale was the event's top scorer with 114 points in 14 events. The herring senior also took fifth in the 400-yard dash in 1:51.5, and anchored Arlington's second-place mile relay team. With forest in the relay were Barry Madson, Jim Corbin, and Mark Taylor. The local quartet covered the four miles in 9:25.4.

CHINO AND MALCOLM also teamed up with Jim Davidson and Jerry Enright to round out the border scoring with a fifth place in the 800-yard dash.

Arlington's sophomore team fared better than their varsity brother, although they were probably just as disappointed with their performance in their respective events. The Cardinals' mile relay team scored 32 points in the 100-yard dash in 1:01.1.

DAVE DRESTER topped the local school's only individual event with a blue ribbon effort in the half-mile run. Danner scored the 800-yard dash in 2:02.

"It is entirely too seldom that a chance arises to work for and actively support a candidate for public office of your caliber. Your entry into the race for State Senator from the Third District is a much-needed breath of fresh air. Seldom do we get a chance to elect a man of your experience, ability, character and courage. Our party needs more positive, modern Republicans like you . . . men willing to make the huge sacrifice of running for public office. You can be sure of my vote June 14."

What More Can Be Said About June.

June is a fun month. June is a fabulous month," says Jamie Chapman, 110 S. Harvard, National Forensic Science's calendar girl for the month. A junior at Arlington High School, Jamie finds summer the best time for her hobbies—swimming, softball, bowling and building a model airplane. Eventually she wants to become a stewardess, but right now she's just thinking about summer. Her plans include a summer, a boy friend named Greg and work at Roundbush's Camp, Pine & Scott store.

6-Day Journey For Special Delivery

BY GEORGE HAMILTON
(Special in Series)

It is the second of a four-part series on postal service as it relates to Arlington Heights.

Because most mail pick-ups are in or close to truck routes, a collection route for the job mail carriers has to be made by stopping collections at busy corners. The one on the north side may do the same thing and in a few days across or even hundreds of letters are delayed.

THE PROBLEM is not recognized by the Post Office Department. Last year in Chicago alone, nearly 200 out-of-town letters had to be held in the mail boxes at school.

In Arlington Heights, the problem is not recognized by the Post Office Department. Last year in Chicago alone, nearly 200 out-of-town letters had to be held in the mail boxes at school.

There is what happened to the latest one to the Post Office. But a letter properly addressed to Donald Wisconsin, 1327 S. Dawson, took all days to arrive in Wisconsin.

"The only time that happens here," Zimmer told The Day, "is when a very nice letter is sent and forgone where the mail boxes are."

He said letters are mailed from time to time to make sure the mail is not held in the mail boxes.

He said letters are mailed from time to time to make sure the mail is not held in the mail boxes.

Of course, the Post Office has been which handled the letter that got the letter. If it had been the letter under two weeks of delay, as reported by the postal laws and regulations.

Somehow, the letter was misdelivered and arrived at the Post Office in Franklin Park, where it was returned to the North Suburban Post Office in Franklin Park, where it was returned to the North Suburban Post Office in Franklin Park.

WHERE FAULT? The day in Franklin Park, where it was returned to the North Suburban Post Office in Franklin Park, where it was returned to the North Suburban Post Office in Franklin Park.

It is quite possible (and probably true) that the letter was sent to the wrong address in the first place.

Day by Day

Journey to Mexico

By Catherine O'Donnell

If there is one thing to be learned from a trip outside of this country, it is the fact that the United States is pretty wonderful. We spent the past weekend in Mexico City and Oaxaca and if you will forgive me for making this a personal account, I'd tell you a bit about it.

Democratic candidate for State Representative in Arlington Heights, visited the Arlington High School on Friday. With the candidates are members of the Arlington High School.

day in Oaxaca had plans for hunting hares and chandler high math, and had four collections.

"Unfortunately, my knowledge of Spanish is limited to Si and Quiero but the Mexican people are charming."

"They were, without exception, as nice as a language barrier would permit."

We traveled from Chicago to Oaxaca with friends of Thomas, Cabotian, the James Cook, the Miss Britains and the Charles Miers. They were setting Charles and I on our way to Oaxaca. In Oaxaca we were particularly eager to have El Hotel Cabotian, in Oaxaca and Elise Britains were still practicing the Habla, Abasco, incidentally, just west of the State of Hawaii title of La Queen of the Islands.

WE GAVE American quarters, books and presents to 20-year-old boys and girls who were setting Charles and I on our way to Oaxaca. In Oaxaca we were particularly eager to have El Hotel Cabotian, in Oaxaca and Elise Britains were still practicing the Habla, Abasco, incidentally, just west of the State of Hawaii title of La Queen of the Islands.

I THOUGHT I'd of Villi and the tremendous job he has undertaken in bringing some understanding between the Arlington Heights and the Mexican-American community presented him the best of my regards.

"The air - conditioning in our room was not working properly in the 85-degree temperature and when we explained, we said, 'Ah, it was too warm, the captain from the hotel, said 'I'll get it fixed and we'll be back in 15 minutes.'"

They were going to the Arlington Heights friends and so did Charles Kamata who met in Oaxaca. In Oaxaca we were particularly eager to have El Hotel Cabotian, in Oaxaca and Elise Britains were still practicing the Habla, Abasco, incidentally, just west of the State of Hawaii title of La Queen of the Islands.

My notes on the trip were made on the basis of cards of local merchants. Elizabeth Cheney had a list of a phone call to Gene and Brooke's law firm and brother-in-law of the late Mrs. James Cook.

Try Pickle Sauce for Spare Ribs

Pickles are the popular hot sensation — they can be used in the most unexpected places.

You might not expect to find pickle sauce in a gourmet recipe, but they're delicious with the main dish.

The ribs get tender after baking on a low fire wrapped with moist paper half to three-quarters of an hour before you begin to cook them.

"PICKLE SAUCE" is a pleasing combination of the syrup from a jar of sweet pickles and a cup of pineapple chunks mixed with sugar and preserved ginger.

- 4 pounds spare ribs
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1 jar (16 ounces) sweet mixed pickles
- 1 cup (1 1/2 ounces) pineapple chunks
- 1/4 cup sugar
- 1 tablespoon cornstarch
- 2 tablespoons chopped preserved ginger
- 2 medium tomatoes, cut into thin wedges

Cut spare ribs 3- to 4-rib portions. Arrange in shallow roasting pan. Cover with foil, wrapping it snugly to edge of pan. Bake in moderate (375-degree) oven 1 hour. Remove foil and drizzle with sauce. Drain pickles and pineapple chunks with syrup. Combine sugar, cornstarch and ginger; blend. Cook, stirring constantly, until thick and clear. Brush ribs with sauce. Return to oven and cook until the tender, 30 to 40 minutes.

Brush with sauce several times using 1/2 of the sauce. Add pickle and pineapple chunks and pineapple juice. Serve before serving, fold in tomato pieces and nuts. Add ribs. Garnish with whole pineapple slices, if desired. Yield: 4 servings.

Mix of mixed pickles and pineapple add a pleasant flavor to roast-meat spareribs.

Advice for Brides Ways to Cut Confusion When Choosing Crystal

Probably the most popular targets for endless advice are brides-to-be and their prospective husbands. They are involved in making appointments, buying homes, choosing the bride's trousseau, the church market, selecting the honeymoon—etc., etc. and so on.

Crystal still is considered part of the bride's trousseau. But times have changed, a bride's trousseau is no longer a collection of gowns, but rather a collection of accessories. Crystal still is considered part of the bride's trousseau. But times have changed, a bride's trousseau is no longer a collection of gowns, but rather a collection of accessories.

Crystal is to 30 to 35 percent lead, but it contains up to 5 percent lead. It is not ordinary glassware, although machine made glassware offers a pattern nearly as good as that of the finest cut.

Parents Ask Hearing On Pupil Transfers

A batch of boundaries is shaping up between Elementary School Dist. 25 and parents in the Prospect Meadows-Windsor Terrace area.
The conflict centers on re-zoning of school attendance boundaries approved by the Dist. 25 Board of Education May 25. Parents are coming from the area bounded by Euclid, Elmwood, E. Forest and Foundry that was in the Kensington school district under the old plan.
The re-zoning requires the children from this area to be sent to North School as of September, 1966.
Parents in the area have been a constant thorn in the side of the school board.
Mrs. Marian Malachuk says the board is not ready to accept the plan.

to the third furthest school from that home?
"What charges you were suggested as a remedy for the problem of the area by the Kensington, North and Windsor school?"
"In presenting the proposal to the board of education for approval, Dist. 25 Sp. Rep. Ralph Calabash said the changes were needed to provide for adequate classroom and balanced class size throughout the district."
Calabash said at the time that a great many alternatives to the proposed plan had been considered, but that the one submitted was "the best possible" under the circumstances.

"A letter distributed to parents in the area by a citizen who identified himself as the Hon. J. Heist, objected to the plan in an attempt to discuss the problem. Heist contacted me for two hours at $16,000 for a school year."
CLABASH said in his report to the board that the plan for the 120 students from the area would be "approximately $6000."

Mrs. Malachuk said an open meeting to discuss the problem would be held June 7 at 8:30 p.m. at Kensington School.

PHIA Seeks Queen For Parade July 4

More heavily will be added to the annual Prospect Heights Improvement Assn.'s Lions Club July 4 parade and community celebration this year.
For the first time, the PHIA will choose a queen to join the group.
The winner and her attendants, also selected from within the community, will be crowned at a banquet on the night of the parade on July 4.
The group plans to feature the first Prospect Heights Lions Club and is an annual event featuring a parade on Prospect Heights.

ANNOUNCEMENT of the beauty contest was made at the last meeting of PHIA by Andy Pahn. He is the organization's financial secretary.
Pahn made it clear that beauty alone is not going to be the criteria on which the queen is chosen. He said that much emphasis will be placed on school activities, personality and participation in community activities.

Chesney Hits 'Political Partnership' Ogilvie Organizes Townships

Center A. Chesney, Elk Grove Twp. Democratic Committeeman, yesterday attacked what he termed "political partnership" by the presidents of Mount Prospect and Elk Grove Villages.

Chesney said by "a noisy and concerned about two village presidents. According to Chesney, the village presidents of Mount Prospect refused to introduce the democratic candidate for the state senate from the third district at a recent meeting of the township.
"And last week," Chesney said, "the president of Elk Grove Village publicly endorsed a Republican candidate as representative in the state."
"That was just the kind of Democratic help to get elected that we need," Chesney said. "In a statement issued yesterday Chesney said "I am becoming increasingly annoyed by the attitude of the township who run as non-partisan candidates to be elected."

John G. Woods Backs Aitcher

Village Mayor John G. Woods said he backs Robert G. Aitcher as the Republican candidate for state senator from the 24th District.

Woods said the endorsement came "because I am convinced Bob Aitcher will do the best job in representing our district."
"Bob Aitcher will do the best job as a man of ability, integrity and high moral character," Woods said. "In cooperation with the problem of integration will be a valuable asset on matters relating to our rapidly growing area."

Elect Officers

Elk Grove Lions Ladies Auxiliary will hold its annual meeting on June 15 at 8 p.m. at the Elk Grove Country Club.

Prospect Right in Step With Zip

He said right now the post office supplies ZIP code information for address when requested by telephone on a regular basis during normal business hours.

THE NEW TELEPHONE directory, Georcia said, now includes ZIP code area at the beginning of the yellow pages. He mentioned that the Post Office's sensitive planning board is exploring other means of making ZIP codes more readily available to the public.
"ZIP code can be a real help," he said, "and it needs to be used more. We've already set up ZIP code processing here and have found that it's the best thing that could ever happen to the mailing system. It's the answer to increased mail volume."

ONE MAN INTERVIEWED on only didn't know his ZIP code but he refused to give his name. Mrs. Stephen Whitcomb, 189 Prospect, has his name.

Mrs. Robert Thomas, 818 W. Midway, refused to be photographed after she had returned from the beauty parlor. He said she had forgotten her ZIP code.

Mr. George Schumann, 282 Quail, Rolling Meadows, said "I try to remember my ZIP code number. It's 60008."

JAMES CONROY, 222 S. Laramie, remembered that his number was 60056, but E. L. Vogt, 304 S. Laramie, said his number was 60057. Postmaster Conroy said that last year there were five ZIP code numbers in Mount Prospect: 60056, 60057, 60058, 60059 and 60060.

Vandalism And Parking Pose Problem

By GEORGE HAMILTON

Village growth and favorable comparisons with the "big city" invariably produce a sense of pride and satisfaction with the benefits of suburbia. But when "big city" problems develop in the village it becomes another story.

South has become the scene of "poor public relations" in Mount Prospect as vandalism, theft and increased burglaries have taken place at some of the village churches. Such incidents have been causing serious concern among church members and clergymen.

But it wasn't just the police being hounded for parking tickets that drew on their time while they were executing Sunday service that has been just a few years ago, and it appears that an era of informality has passed.

AS A RESULT, Mount Prospect police have been TARE the case of parking violations. The churches themselves, according to municipal laws, have had a representative amount of churchgoers in search of a parking spot.

To help regulate the flow of traffic before and after church services and to insure access to the street for emergency vehicles, an informal working agreement was signed between the village and the churches.

Not only has Mount Prospect grown, but so has the entire surrounding area. There are many more cars and people than there were just a few years ago, and it appears that an era of informality has passed.

to volume was small and as long as the more serious problems or complaints.

BUT ACCORDING to Nelson, Mount Prospect Chief of Police, the problem was not confined to church services but extended to the entire area.

And he says of other parking problems, "The present parking situation is a direct result of the increase in the number of cars in the area."

WARNINGS to those involved in such situations, according to Nelson, "The signs have not been posted nearly as they should be to inform of these requirements."

At such intersections a "one-way" sign is placed on the street showing the direction of travel.

And the "two-way" sign is placed on the street showing the direction of travel.

Vandals Spray Paint Can

Vanadium reported to Arlington Heights police Sunday indicated someone was trying to paint the town.

Howard Payne, 3006 E. Eastman, told police someone used spray paint to write obscene words on the side of his home.

Figure Boyce, 321 N. Saratoga, reported that the side of his car was sprayed with gold paint sometime Sunday.

Police assumed from the similarity in the writing that the same person was responsible.

Rumsfeld Reports On Viet Nam Tour

There is no end or even a relative peace in sight in the Viet Nam war, reports Rep. Donald Rumsfeld (R-Ill.) who recently returned from a 10-day tour of the country. Rumsfeld told reporters Saturday gathered in his party home in Winnetka, Ill. "I see I have very sober eyes to believe that President Johnson is just another quarter of a million men there within the next year."

He held his observation on the building of troop quarters and supply warehouses in the country. He said the way the men will carry part of the war is going to be "for years and years."

Rumsfeld went to Viet Nam with a congressional subcommittee investigating the military aspects of the war. They will go to Germany and military leaders today May 6 to May 11.

Rumsfeld, a former pilot, awarded Purple Hearts, varied directly carriers and various troop installations, including some along the Cambodian border, and at the time deemed some to be on a night patrol.

He was highly critical of the administration's handling of the war.

"Either the President and the Director of Defense don't understand the situation or they are misleading us for psychological reasons," he said. "He said the administration should be more candid about the situation."

Rumsfeld noted that the military situation has improved only slightly in the last few months but that the United States hasn't been able to provide protection for even five per cent of the Vietnamese people.

THE VIET CONG are still recruiting, he said. "One proof of this is that they will take their toll in Saigon just like any other side."

"It is easy for them," he said. "You can't tell a Viet Cong from an ordinary Viet Nam."

He said the Viet Cong control the roadways and they keep goods as they are being transported in Saigon.

"Everything that moves in the vicinity of the Viet Cong," Rumsfeld said, "is under their control. They have had a very complete."

RUMSFELD charged that the United States is many times using World War II resources in the handling of the war.

"We're using $100,000,000 a week to buy junk which cost $700 and we're using the same budget which cost us 10 cents and 12 hours," he said. Asked how long the Viet Nam war would be a chronic issue, Rumsfeld said, "It is only a matter of 'when'."

Bill Means Seeks to Push His Cart All the Way to State Capital

BY JACK A. VANDERMEY
William L. "Bill" Means is trying to make a Senate career with a fifty dollar bill and a shopping cart full of groceries.

Means, one of five Republican candidates for the Illinois House of Representatives, has always wanted to be a legislator in Springfield.

Spending a wide, open field after the 1964 legislative election, Means wanted his bill—and his grocery cart—into the Republican political ring in the 3d Representative District.

Other candidates and the Buffalo Grove residents are campaigning for two spots on the ballot in the June 14 primary election.

"I'll not let you all spend more money than I have," said Means, a dark horse in the race.

His total campaign costs to date are $50—and a lot of lost sleep.

THE $50 includes the cost of a shopping basket full of groceries that Means pushes from meeting to meeting to maintain a dramatic life style for someone in state government.

"I'm a conservative," (You have to be a conservative to run for office in Illinois with only $50). Means has gotten mixed reaction around the district, with his cart, complete with soap and soap suds.

In one instance, at least, he has been asked to take his cart and leave the room.

"Apparently, they don't think it's dignified for a Republican to push a grocery cart," Means said.

Means points out that nine out of 10 people who attended Don Rumsfeld's recent U.S. Congressional poll said they favored a strong truth in packaging bill.

"Frankly, it's embarrassing," Means asked, "if the same truth in packaging" bill was applied to political candidates."

MEANS SAID that his presence on a grand spectacle of what happens when you pay $50 to get elected.

"That's a great grocery cart for these months," Means said. "Are you getting your money's worth?"

For every $25 he gives to the public boys, Means said that'll give him the use of a Congressional poll said they favored a strong truth in packaging bill.

"Do you feel we are getting our fair share of services for that unfair tax?" Means asked. Means admits that he is a dark horse candidate. His four Republican opponents are re-

Release New Gospel Album

"The Gospel is Song," a long time high-fidelity gospel album has been released by the Rev. Billy Sunday and the Rev. Bill Eckhart of Hoffman Estates.

The album, on the Meliterra label, features two recordings by the Rev. Mr. Eckhart: a vocal solo by the Rev. Mr. Eckhart and Mr. Eckhart on guitar with Mrs. Rev. Billy Sunday and piano. Several selections are included.

new professional, well-financed campaign.

They are Rep. Eugene Schickman, William Moore, Robert Means and David Rogers.

"But one thing should be kept in mind," Means said. "You never see me. This sign of mine might just catch fire with the voters."

MEANS IS not on the ballot. This is considered an advantage. He believes this will give him a built-in vote. "And we are making our own way in organizational support," Means said.

Shrugging his shoulders, the candidate for state representative said: "Even if I lose on June 14 we can always get my campaign workers together and have a cook out. We have plenty of groceries."

On May 23rd the Sacramento of Confirmation was held at St. Raymond's Catholic Church, Mount Pleasant, Offshooting at the 7:30 p.m. Mass were Bishop Charles O'Connell, the Rev. James P. Hendon, the Rev. Robert Harris and the Rev. Ronald Kelen.

Attending were 286 youth confirmands, their sponsors and 1,200 guests.

The placing of the hand on the shoulder of the confirmand is significant as it symbolizes the sponsor's responsibility to the youth and to his own fulfillment of his duties spiritual and life responsibilities.

TONIGHT at 7:30 St. Raymond's Band will present its Annual Spring Concert. The Bandmaster Band and the Tenor Band will also participate.

Students of St. Raymond's School will hear the concert during school hours. The evening performance is for adults and high school students. Ticket donations at $1.00 for adults, 25 cents for high school students.

An appreciation Christmas Dinner Dinner will be held in the St. Raymond's Church auditorium Saturday, 11:00 P.M. All of the ladies, residents, businessmen, their spouses and lay-worshippers.

THE CATHOLIC women's Club intends an invitation to women of the parish and friends to attend the Spring Luncheon to be held at noon on June 6 at Notre Dame Country Club.

Wrought Iron Romance In Divider Panels

Admirers of wrought iron and Old Spain will find something new to cheer about in a Moorish-inspired decorative panel and divider system being shown by Galwey, Inc., Chicago, at the 1966 winter home furnishings markets.

Authentic Moorish design motifs—quatrefoils, scrolls, circles—have been faithfully captured and rendered in unaltered wrought iron panels so realistic that the eye alone can't tell the difference.

Though Mediterranean in flavor, the new Castille panels can be used with either classic Corinthian or contemporary tapered pressure poles to blend appropriately with almost any style of interior design.

FOR MAXIMUM flexibility in today's homes, the home-maker can arrange the 23 3/4-inch panels vertically with the poles to make 27-inch wide divider sections; horizontally to form 39-inch wide sections; and vertically with a special 22 x 54 inch pediment-topped pendant panel to create an 80-inch high divider section.

And for added utility, there are shelves in simulated marble and wood tones that mount on the divider poles with special brackets.

Best of all, the divider system—panels, poles, and shelves—can be quickly assembled in any desired arrangement with only a screwdriver, and can just as quickly be disassembled and rearranged without marring walls or ceilings.

Besides their usefulness in creating highly decorative partitions in homes and apartments, the panels and poles can also be used in commercial and institutional establishments, such as stores, offices, hotels, motels, and showrooms.

THE NEW Castille panels are the latest addition to Galwey's divider system patterns. Other panel designs introduced earlier include the contemporary Tuscan; the Provincial Waves Band; the Traditional Clamshell; and the Mediterranean Seville.

Whereas the earlier panels were 24 inches square, the Castille is a 23 x 36-inch rectangle," explained Mary Ann Willis, styling consultant for the company.

In addition, the Castille is the first of Galwey's designs to include a special 22 x 54-inch pendant panel with pediment which can be combined with the standard Castille panels in vertical arrangements.

Panels and poles are sold individually as the home-maker can select exactly the right number of components to make the divider arrangement she desires, Miss Willis noted.

The deeply-detailed molded panels are finished on both sides and thick enough to resist warping. They're attached to the poles with screw-on clamps which can be adjusted in any position.

A choice of three finishes is available for panels and poles: antique black, white gold, and jade. The poles adjust from 7 feet 8 inches to 8 feet 4 inches, with extension sections available for higher ceilings.

The Castille panels sell for $12.95 each suggested retail ($13.50 in Western states), while the larger Castille pendant panels sell for $16.95 each suggested retail ($17.50 in Western states).

The Corinthian pressure pole is $3.50 each ($3.95 in Western states).

Galwey divider systems are sold at leading department, furniture, gift, and accessory stores.

Even a Spanish pediment would approve of this Castille divider panel system, an authentic reproduction of a Moorish design. The Castille pendant panel is shown with a 10 x 27 1/2 inch simulated white marble shelf on tapered pressure pole. Finish shown is white gold. Antiques black and jade are also available.

The rectangular dimensions of the new Castille divider panel by Galwey, Inc., make it simple to create a wide divider section. The standard panel is 23 x 36 inches; the pendant panel is 22 x 54 inches including pediment. Both attach to pressure poles with screw-on clamps. Corinthian and tapered pressure poles are offered. In addition to the antique black finish shown, white gold and jade are also available.

Kitchen Dull and Dreary?

If your present kitchen is a dull, dreary and inconvenient place in which to work you can do something about it.

New tile flooring, built-in wood or metal cabinets, a built-in range and sink, and base cabinets with servicable washers can bring it up to date.

The accompanying pictures, taken in an apartment project the remodeling of which was financed by First Federal Savings and Loan of Chicago, indicate how a minimum of work and expense will make a big difference in a kitchen.

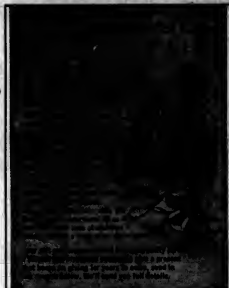

How Many Trees In A House

NEW YORK (UPI) — One logger cutting trees in the giant forests of the Pacific Northwest produces enough lumber during an average working month to construct 60 single-family dwellings, according to Osmark Industries, Inc., producer of saw chains for timber harvesting.

Edward P. Skraliak, executive vice president of the Portland, Ore., firm, reports that under normal working conditions a good logger will fell trees containing a total of 20,000 to 30,000 board feet of lumber in a working day.

"The average home requires from 9,000 to 10,000 board feet of lumber and so a logger produces the lumber for three homes in a day, or felling it on a 20-day working month, the raw wood for 60 dwellings," he said.

Clematis, Pruning And Planting

BY RICHARD DE LAND

Clematis is one of the latest of flowering plants to be discovered in American nurseries and garden centers. However, because they only made their come to us in the last few years, many people are uncertain about growing them. At this time of the year the most frequent question concerns pruning. There are two methods of pruning Clematis. The method depends on the variety. Nelly Moser and other varieties that bloom in early summer should be pruned rather carefully.

Give the mass of vines a thorough inspection and cut out any vines that are obviously dead. The remaining stems should be cut back to the first pair of strong buds. Each individual vine should then be inspected for specific signs on the twigs, wick, or other support. Best time to do this is before the buds break in to leaves.

DON'T GET too enthusiastic when you are doing the pruning. Remember that the flowers of clematis in a 1 1/2 group flower on side shoots of wood produced the previous year. Thus save as much of this old wood as possible. It produces the flowers. Without a doubt this requires pruning and selection of each vine in time consuming and tedious. However, it produces the maximum amount of floral display from each vine.

You'll probably say up with more vines than space on the trellis. A good use for these extra stems is layering. It's an easy way to propagate new plants. When layering take some of the older vines and bury in loops "S" or serpentine fashion in the ground. Cut a small stick in the vine where it dips into the ground. A year later, after roots and leaves have developed, the stem or vine sections can be severed from the main plant. The leaves several new clematis vines that can be transplanted to new locations.

CLEMATIS varieties that bloom later in the summer such as Comtesse de Bouchaud or the purple flowered Jack-mani are pruned somewhat differently. Cut the entire mass of vines three feet or less above the ground. Make the cuts just above a strong pair of buds.

This group of clematis is different because they produce all their bloom on wood made during the current season. Sprouts that develop in the next few weeks are the same ones that will produce flowers. If the plant is just a few large multivine cables, cut back each strand in the vine cable to a different length. For example cut a few at two and a half feet, others at three and still others at three and a half feet. This will ensure wider distribution of the bloom.

If you are planting additional clematis vines or are using them for the first time you should remember that they like full sun. Plant the root ball above an inch deeper than it grew in the nursery, so that additional supportive roots will be stimulated. Don't be too concerned about having alkaloid soil, this is the natural condition of Cook County soil. At any rate roses authorities say that clematis will thrive in any good clay loam. Throughout the summer give them plenty of water and a good shaded rest situation. Then fertilize rather heavily the same as you would roses and they'll thrive.

Finally be imaginative about where you use them. Consider training with climbing roses, over dwarf fruit trees, or over a good iron pole.

List Goals Of Home Builders Assoc.

BY MICHAEL J. CRAFT

President, Young Builders' Association of Chicago
President of the Home Builders' Association of Chicago
Organizations of people with the same business, trade, or professional interests are as old as ancient Egypt; they flourished in the Middle Ages. Today they are a powerful force for the improvement of America's life.

As they increase their member's skills and knowledge, trade associations also advance the welfare of the public. Technological advances have transformed home building, for example, from a fragmented craft into a great industry within a generation.

Much of this transformation has come about thru the efforts of the National Association of Home Builders, of which the Home Builders' Association of Chicago is the local affiliate. The 36,000 members of N. A. H. B. are sub contractors, suppliers, architects, members of the financial community, and others allied with the home building industry. The overriding goals of N. A. H. B. and the Home Builders' Association of Chicago are these: That home ownership can and should be within reach of every American family; that homes should be well designed, well constructed, and located in attractive communities with readily accessible educational, recreational, and religious facilities.

TO HELP local home builders meet the problems of their complex industry, N. A. H. B. maintains modern headquarters in Washington, D. C., four blocks from the White House. This building, the National Housing center, is a focal point for both national and international housing conferences.

The center contains the world's largest library devoted exclusively to housing, and on four floors welcomes the public to displays of the latest products used in building and furnishing the American home.

Three N.A.H.B. staff specialists, and thru this local and state association leadership, the Home Builders' Association of Chicago local member receives expert assistance in virtually every field related to housing. His up-to-date knowledge of new products, designs, and techniques is of great value to the home buyer.

THE N. A. H. B. devotes much time, money, and effort to research, seeking ways to improve building and land costs. It operates its own research (foundation) laboratory, and with cooperating manufacturers constructs research houses using new products and systems.

Information on these projects and many others is shared by members thru a wide range of publications, numerous clubs and workshops, and thru N. A. H. B.'s mammoth annual convention-exposition. This shared knowledge of N. A. H. B. members is helping builders here fulfill their objective of providing ever-better homes.

FOR THE BUYER, there is still another benefit derived from N. A. H. B. and the Home Builders' Association of Chicago.

One of the important requirements of membership is acceptance of a strict, enforceable code of ethics, which pledges the builder to quality workmanship and business integrity in all his dealings.

Foundation Grading Important

As the earth around your house becomes hard and compacted and cracks down it may cause depressions, particularly where there has been a recent set of the house at the foundation.

These places must be kept filled with dirt so that water will not collect in them and cause dampness in the basement. The ground around the house must be kept graded to the earth's slope away from the dwelling.

Building Decline Threatens -- Duncan

A serious decline in home building and buying less this year is inevitable unless there is some improvement in the supply of mortgage credit, according to C. A. Duncan, Jr., president of the United Savings Savings and Loan League.

Duncan said that the dismal prospects for the housing industry apparently are viewed with complacency in government circles because of the belief that a deadline in home building would reduce the pressure on sawprow, materials, and credit in the economy.

"OF COURSE, this raises the question of why the shabby industry should be singled out to assume the role of scapegoat in the present situation," he said.

"As well-informed as the economic planner and money managers are, some of them do not understand that the impact of the present retrenchment in loan commitments will not begin to show up until some months hence," he added.

"To a considerable extent the mortgage credit shortage is the result of misadministration and misinformation among some of the important people in Washington in charge of making important decisions concerning the housing industry.

DUNCAN said some government officials believe that the country generally is in an "over-built" situation and that a curtail in housing is desirable to bring housing markets into better demand and supply balance.

"The actual fact is that in only a limited number of areas is there a surplus of housing units," he said.

"Unless prospects for mortgage credit improve faster than we are going to see a cutback in new building that will be so severe, that as a consequence, there will be an almost frantic bidding up of prices on existing dwellings," Duncan added.

HE NOTED that since the start of the 1945 gains in savings in all types of financial institutions have run appreciably lower than a year ago. As a result, the bulk of home credit available from savings and loan associations this year will be derived from loan repayments which he said would run between $14 billion and $15 billion in 1946.

"Under the present circumstances, it is obvious that mortgage lenders everywhere are going to become increasingly selective in qualifying borrowers and there is also a good possibility that the cost of mortgage credit will be even higher as the year moves along."

Imagination

More imagination than money is required for a successful remodeling project, says the Tile Council of America. The trade association of domestic ceramic tile manufacturers adds that homeowners have more than 30,000 building materials from which to choose and that the decorative decision is usually more time-consuming than the monetary one.

Many Colors

Quarry tile, a type of ceramic tile, traditionally has had a earth-nod stone but now comes in several colors, thanks to the development of new glazes.

Daisies Favored For Wallpaper

Daisies are telling a home fashion story for spring. When it comes to daisies in wallpaper patterns, there have rarely been so many different kinds and color combinations.

Here's a roundup on part of the wide variety available.

A modern interpretation of daisies called "Love Me Not" has a geometric feeling and comes in two color combinations — orange, yellow and green, or blue and green.

ANOTHER wallpaper pattern, "Daisy Drifts," suggests tiny bouquets in an overall pattern and in three color combinations — pink and silver, mustard and silver, blue and gold.

Like daisies, ticking stripes are popular in wallpaper patterns, and "Peppermint Stripes" combines the two. Here, striped daisies appear in updating horizontal stripes upon the ticking ground.

PREFER a checked background? Look for the "Gingham Daisy," in white with blue, yellow, pink, or blue. A plain "Gingham" fabric without the daisies is available in matching colors.

The wallpaper pattern for "Daisy Quilt" is adapted from an early copperplate design. Lively colors include blue and green, pink and green, orange and brown or gold and blue.

"HOLIDAY Daisy" has a dainty look, in yellow, blue or pink. "Daisy Doll" features random daisy bunches and comes with an attractively matched screen printed chaise.

"Flour Volcanoes" also has a matching fabric. For the same reason, there is a "French look" for this soft floral wallpaper pattern.

Current fashion for flocks is reflected in a wallpaper pattern with a ten-on-ten floated daisy in geometric squares. Red, green, cream and white are the color choices.

Putting a distinctive touch into the home for the season is a hallway. There's a hint of spring in the geometric pattern of fabric used here. By Thomas Gordon Co.

Stains Echo Nature

Natural Colors in building materials and outdoor surroundings are echoed in the latest exterior wood stains.

They reflect today's strong trend to natural materials in home building and to a subtle blending with outdoor surroundings.

"Colors were chosen to repeat the hues of wood, stone, brick and concrete," according to Michael W. Hardelbriek, president of the Martin-Senouor Paint Company, Chicago.

"And they also have been selected to blend with all kinds of natural surroundings—earth and clay, pebbles and sand, pebbles and foliage, and sky and water. Geographical areas were considered, too, and canyon soils, ponds, bleached desert scrubland, sand and shell colors, woodland browns, and mountain greens are included."

THE NEW "natural" colors required because of the increased use of natural materials in home building, include brick, red, stone, pebbles, slate and sand colors, and concrete and weathered wood tones.

The matte finish of the stains emphasizes the beauty and texture of natural wood, adding a welcome touch of color to shingles, shakes, lattice boards, outdoor furniture, rough or smooth siding, and other exterior wood surfaces.

They can be applied directly over new or weathered wood and over previously stained surfaces.

Each stain dries to a tough, low luster finish that is non-bleeding, non-crawling, and non-peeling. The new Exterior Wood Stains are chemically processed to resist mildew and fungus even in deep south-east coastal areas.

THE NEW "natural" colors required because of the increased use of natural materials in home building, include brick, red, stone, pebbles, slate and sand colors, and concrete and weathered wood tones.

Many new colors, fern and olive greens, rich earth and loam browns, and deep bark and charcoal are among the outdoor colors.

Colors of the Fair West, buckskin, oxbow, desert sand, canyon tan, agatebrown, million reds and Indian turquoise, are available in the stain collection.

Mountain greens are Alpine, pine needles, blue spruce, and lichen. The colors of the seashore are represented with sandspice, grey, dune and sea grass.

Martin - Senouor Exterior Wood Stains are sold in Paint, hardware, building material, and department stores.

More Than a Home in Elsinore

Elsinore, a new community of 45 custom-built residences, in the Sherwood section of Arlington Heights, has added two new homes to its list of plans available in the area considered by many to be one of the finest neighborhoods of the northwest suburban village.

The new homes, a two-story Colonial and a split-level, both are priced at $37,500 including a fully improved basement. Elsinore, with three to six bedroom homes in the $35,000 to $50,000 price range, has the largest in-cloves lots available along the Northwestern commuter lines, with homeites ranging from 75 feet x 150 feet to 135 feet by 150 feet.

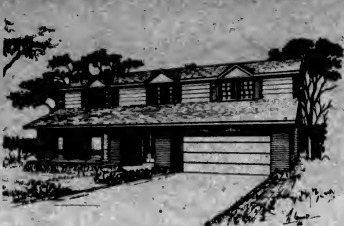

"Our homebuyers are looking for more than just a home. They are concerned a great deal with the school system, nearness to transportation facilities, and above all, the neighborhood," said Art LaValle, sales manager for Mc-Wall Builders, developers of the Elsinore area.

"Arlington Heights is an established, progressive community with a school system recognized for its excellence, established churches of every faith, outstanding shopping and recreational facilities, and fine commuter rail and highway systems. The large homesites of the Sherwood area offer space for a two-car garage, affording the privacy and appearance one expects in homes of this price range," he continued. "All our homes are built to order from a variety of plans we have available, giving each buyer complete flexibility of selection."

THE NEW Colonial, the Salem, is a four bedroom, two and a half bath home with a painted family room, two-car attached garage, basement, formal dining room, and a kitchen equipped with oven, range, dishwasher, and waste disposer. The home has a 21 foot kitchen with spacious breakfast area and a 20x14 family room with mottled glass patio doors.

The Salem, a new Colonial being offered in Elsinore of Arlington Heights, has 4 bedrooms, 2 1/2 baths, 2 car garage, basement, fully appointed kitchen, paneled family room. Over 2400 square feet of living area.

overlooking the family room, a basement, a formal dining room, a completely equipped kitchen, and an attached two-car garage.

BOTH NEW plans have over 2400 square feet of living space and sell for $37,500. Ranch, two-story Colonial, split-level, and Cape Cod styles of architecture are being offered in Elsinore. Three furnished models are open for inspection Saturday, Sunday, Wednesday, and Thursday from 10 a.m. to 7 p.m. and from 1 p.m. to 5 p.m. on Monday, Tuesday

Indoor, Outdoor Carpet

A new Alapostol design of Delton Vinylite rug and carpets has been introduced.

Since Delton was founded in 1902, its floorcovering products have kept pace with changes in color, styling, and our very way of living.

After the turn of the century Delton's grass rugs were the style leader in homes all over the country.

Beginning after World War I and continuing through World War II Delton fibre rugs were used extensively on porches as well as in many other areas of the home.

Now, with the magic of Vinylite, Delton rugs and carpets have entered another era. Delton Vinylite makes each rug weather, soil, and stain resistant...and can be used both indoors and outdoors. These rugs are ideal for use in a family room, bedroom, extra room indoors, and equally suitable for outdoor use around a pool or on the patio.

Albert R. Kelly
Builder

Custom or Semi-Custom Dwellings

What home builder Albert Riley calls an organization within an organization has been set up to coordinate his tract developmental operations with his construction of both individual and isolated homes.

This arrangement makes possible for custom homes and "semi-custom" homes the economies gained by mass construction. By "semi-custom," it means homes that are individualized from the basic models which Riley displays on Illinois highway 53 south of Peoria.

"Of major consideration," Riley says, "is the land location. Many persons have their own lots to which they plan to build. For those who do not, the Albert Riley Builders really divides first choice lots available through the metropolitan area and it helps the buyer in negotiations for the kind of lot he wants."

The firm builds homes in the price range of $26,000 to $40,000.

The Dream One Cape Cod has 2 1/2 baths and is available in a number of interior elevations combining color or hardwood siding with brick or stone. It is priced at $26,000 on the buyer's lot.

Doorway to Tragedy . . . Apartments Still Abandoned

Open what would have been the living room area of the third floor Tally Ho Apartment and there is a doorway deep to the basement.

Water-filled elevator creates a trap—the scene in front of abandoned apartment.

One of two open doors in second-floor field provides a potential death trap.

Tally Ho Bust

BY GEORGE HAMILTON
 In a prairie at Boone City, and Altonville Rd. there stands what is called an "attractive nuisance."
 It consists of five two-story apartment buildings in various stages of construction, five foundations partially filled with water and three water-filled elevators. It is known as the Tally Ho Apartment project.
 The village of Mount Prospect is taking steps to have the buildings razed and the foundations and excavations "filled."
 The "attractive nuisance" label means that it may attract curious youngsters in the unfenced, unguarded area.
 "Nothing has happened there yet," Mount Prospect Police Chief Lowell Edmund said, "but it is a potential trouble spot."

A tour of the buildings and grounds by a Day reporter revealed a potential death trap, even for an adult.
 With two doors to one of the buildings and there is danger from broken windows, either those already on the ground or the ones ready to be dislodged by the wind on the upper floors.
 If you escape the glass, some of the birds may actually attack you, menacing the success of their nesting place.
 THE BUILDINGS have been knocked up, but have and there a prower has torn off a door to get inside, the other three have walls, trim and floors.
 Broken glass litter the floor, plus the evidence of birds and cats. The door could prevent future use of the building by people.
 The rear stairs go up to the door. Around a corner a door opens to a four-story drop to the basement. It is the railroad where the front stairs would have been.
 MOUNT PROSPECT firmness about the building each week.
 "We always wonder what we will find behind every door," Chief Edwin Heberkamp said. "On the lower floors, where most of the windows are boarded up, inspection of the deck rooms can be an unsettling experience."
 The fire department is concerned about a fire. Hydrants are in place in the fields, but water for the apartments was never turned on.
 Walking in the fields is just as dangerous. The water-filled foundations and excavations are obvious, but The Day reporter came across two worms with covers removed.
 Stumbling into one of those would result in a 25-foot fall, and it would be a long, lonely wait for help.
 The buildings have been demolished since the company that holds the mortgage on the land, Marshall Savings and Loan, was placed into receivership two years ago.
 Most subcontractors based on a sign in front of the building were never paid, and as a result there are workmen's liens against the project.
 The lien has prevented a third party from finishing the buildings.
 THE VILLAGE of Mount Prospect wants false opinions and damage not removed. It has found a law which will allow the village to tear down the apartments and level the land. The village would then have a lien against the land which would take precedence over others.
 A suit is now pending to had been followed when the development was approved," Congrove said.

 He said the village "rescued and annexed the land and granted building permits all in the same night" in May of 1942.
 "A public hearing was held three months later to comply with the law, but it is not clear through the regular procedure, Marshall Savings would have been in receivership before the buildings were put up."
 "Congrove said a zoning violation was never requested either, and the five buildings are actually illegal."
 Cook County Circuit Court to allow the village to proceed with condemnation and destruction of the apartments Ananary Martin Smith, handling the case for the village, told The Day he is trying to get the case moved up for hearing in late June or early July.
 The court action may take most of the summer, so parents and children are warned to avoid the buildings.
 Mount Prospect Mayor Daniel Congrove told The Day that the village is impatient to fix the court will allow.
 "This never would have happened if normal procedure

Di Blasi Soloist For Park District

3-Day Law Enforcement Show Opens at Randhurst

Day by Day

Stonegate Lights

By Catherine O'Donnell

Tenor Eugene Dillon will be added to a fine public musical series at 8:15 p.m. Saturday, at Randhurst's Town Hall.

The event, sponsored by the new River Trails Park District, will mark the district's opening. The district covers about 3 1/2 square miles bounded on the east by River Rd., on the west by Foxwood Dr. and on the north by Camp McDonald Rd.

Dillon, a port commissioneer with the Italian American Veterans Club, is a board chairman of an American Car Body unit and first lieutenant of the Japanese as well as a Chinese woodcarver.

He boasts his musical career while in college at the University of Wisconsin in the summer stock in Woodstock, "The Student Prince" and performed four years on WGN weekly variety series.

Dillon also has been soloist for several churches and toured state and country fair circuits for three years.

Randhurst Shopping Center will be the site of the fifth annual Chicago area Police Show Thursday, Friday and Saturday. Two officers show the Chicago Police Department communications equipment that will be one of more than 20 displays at the show.

It will result in a light running over the Stonegate Avenue, and the lighting for their monthly meeting in the cafeteria of Menlo Junior High School at 8 a.m.

The annual selection of officers will be held but the chief topic of discussion will be the type of street lamps that will replace the present and beautify some still in use.

Besides the light question, the proposed Arthur Av. extension into Northlake Hwy. will be discussed. Residents fear too much traffic will enter Stonegate if the area is linked to the highway. Association president is Albert Wilson of S. Brighton.

A Long Season
When you have four sons you can be certain that there won't be much you won't know about baseball.

Jack Parkie, who lives on S. Beverly in the marriage of the Raiders this year, his seventh with the Arlington Heights boys Baseball League. Jack says there are other fathers who have worked as many as 12 years. Jack's son Bill plays with the team he managed. Two other boys, John and Wayne, are on the roster and yet young Greg is coming along, so Jack expects to be on the bench some for a long time.

Heroes Are Made

Charles and Dorothy Czebulski of S. Arlington Heights Rd. pulled into the Standard Oil station on the Northwest Hwy. corner of their street to get their car.

Their car was being sent. That began a series of events that prove heroes are made, not born.

Charles went into the station and Dorothy sat reading while the main switch to keep the gas pumps.

area a new corner. The building set up at the annual of the gas pump. The pump kept its flames.

Dorothy managed to slip through the window, start the car and drive away.

Bygone weekend, Roger Radtke got a fence sailing, and put on the fire. Another student from Northlake pulled the main switch to keep off the gas pumps.

It is refreshing to see a pair of candidates on the campaign trail who are not politicians.

The candidate for Cook County is a Republican, the other a Democrat.

Both are highly qualified to serve in the posts they seek.

It was an excellent report on Perry's statements concerning the fact. Only one problem. Perry says made no such speech. His remarks were confined to a pair about Medicaid.

That's not what the voters should have learned for themselves rather than depend on the candidate's flattery.

Want your home around a dad's chair or long arm chair with a room for Dad - a den of his own?

A private spot just for Dad could be in a guest room or basement or attic if you lack a den proper.

The best basic piece for Dad's hideaway is a sofa or a bed. Both Englander's new dual-purpose pieces that provide a guest bed as well.

FABRIC can determine your decorating scheme. All kinds of masculine materials from a handsome cloth or long wearing slay to a bright flannel pattern during long power days are available.

Designs from Mediterranean to modern are slanted toward the rugged male, whatever he wants to relax with his feet up or entertain a few cronies.

A GAME table, a few chairs, a rug and some lamps and the hideaway is complete.

Decorative screens Dad can choose himself, to reflect his interests and hobbies.

The whole thing need not be expensive. Rough board walls, painted, can be just as effective as fine paneling.

And if Dad gets to use it 95 percent of the time, maybe he wouldn't mind if it was used as a guest room once in a while.

that has gone out to employes at neighboring Post Offices that Mrs. Dodge "is tough to rock for." In other words, if they come to Arlington Heights, they have to do the job or resign.

Zimmer, executive-in-charge of Mail, told the writer the primary problem, growth of the area, a general manpower shortage and lack of cooperation or interest here.

Zimmer says that in the last three years, they have had to hire approximately 1,500 new employees built here essentially by each mail delivery to an average of 300 homes daily.

Part of the shortage is caused by the War Man situation. There are now 12 men from the Post Office in military service, according to Zimmer. They cannot be replaced because the law prevents the men that join when they leave.

REGARDING some of the errors that take place with your mail, Zimmer and Mrs. Dodge do look into the complaints. In most cases it is a new man who cannot or will not leave his important very letter or parcel to the sender or recipient.

The error, as outlined or stated, who commits them is. Of course, some of the errors are almost unavoidable. Why did it take Mrs. Bartolin's invitation to her party to the block? It most likely was put in the wrong rack or being "tagged" by mistake and it took four days for the mistake to be corrected.

A letter or package placed in the wrong rack could go to the next town or across the country because of a mistake.

How can a letter or other item be delivered to the wrong block? It seems that it is done by mistake and it is not to be corrected. If it is done by mistake and it is not to be corrected, it is not to be corrected. If it is done by mistake and it is not to be corrected, it is not to be corrected.

HOW CAN you correct the mistake? You can either read the name and address on your mail to see your name but by enough to hold the letter, envelope, newspaper and newspaper that you receive.

The correct time is to complain. Save the envelope or the newspaper, take it to the Post Office. Mrs. Dodge or Sept. Zimmer will check for you for your problem and do something about it. Problems can be taken by them to a higher office.

If they don't you can write to the Chicago Regional Director, V. W. Post Office, Chicago, Ill. Write to the Post Office, Chicago, Ill. Write to the Post Office, Chicago, Ill. Write to the Post Office, Chicago, Ill.

and sends for completion of this form to a representative of the agency. "Lead and chain" is the term used by Dr. Robert Lohr, president of Hooper College, and the board is desirous of the submission of the board of education to the public.

QUESTION: Does the board believe that an "independent" faculty should be an independent faculty?

ANSWER: "That is inherent in any college in general, but we cannot say we believe in it as a principle. We believe that in a particular case, it is important to have more than the usual case of an "independent" faculty. That is a system of joint control by a school and a community college. The intent of the Public Law 1770, to provide individual colleges for community colleges. Under the law, joint colleges that are part of high school facilities have been recognized to succeed elsewhere.

QUESTION: Cannot you discuss what is qualified and what makes a college education set on its feet?

ANSWER: Probably not now. Certainly, not in the near future. The state board of education has proposed that the 1962-63 college enrollment data were included in the state in 1963 will have increased to 413,703 by 1971, to 498,400 by 1975. Under the present state, continued education of the state's youth, every top student under other arrangements we make. The law is a system of joint control by a school and a community college. The intent of the Public Law 1770, to provide individual colleges for community colleges. Under the law, joint colleges that are part of high school facilities have been recognized to succeed elsewhere.

QUESTION: How is the coming of a community college?

ANSWER: There is more emphasis on the need for more, higher educational institutions. By means of a very thorough review of past academic performance and the results of tests, the student is placed in an understanding of his abilities and added in the selection of his appropriate course of study. He is given a free choice, however, and is responsible for his own progress. In other words, we attempt to maximize the chance of a successful academic career and the career of choice.

QUESTION: What do community colleges teach?

ANSWER: Judging by our own experience, the community colleges teach the same as other colleges and universities. There are no legal restrictions that require that community college teachers will have a master's degree in the field in which they are teaching. In some of the more important cases, the college is more available by substitution for the master's degree.

QUESTION: How much will the state pay for 75 percent of the cost of the community college?

ANSWER: The local share of the total expense is $7,273,000, to be financed by local levies. The local community will subsidize its 25 percent share before the state will approve any money for the construction of the college.

QUESTION: What tax increase should local taxpayers anticipate?

ANSWER: As an estimated total cost of 3.75 per cent, the cost to the home owner will run from 43 cents per $100 of assessed valuation to about 333 cents per $100 as the assessed valuation of the district increases. Community income taxation of the district is $801,200,000. It is estimated that the tax will climb by 1975 to $1,661,200,000.

How You'll Look in Fall

Be a Doll, a Baby or a Queen

If some of America's and Europe's most highly regarded fashion designers have their way, even this fall will look like:

- elegant hangers
- 1920 Charleston coats
- collars

One of the most beloved of the baby dolls was created by Chester Washburn, designer of fine collections under the new label. It's a white, short-sleeved, belted dress with black bands under the bust and a large, off-center bow at the waist.

The dress in Orlon sweater knit, it is very close, close you or three inches above the knee.

The look is dainty, hamper-like, with a high collar. The girls who choose this dress probably expect to be less than a year old and have flowers like Audrey or maybe even Katharine Hepburn on the bodice.

A REDEEMED 1920's look that turned up in a collection by Donald Brooks, including a double-breasted paper jacket with a wide collar and a skirt with a center seam and a slit at the front.

The Brooks design was extremely smart, picking up what was best in the 20's and adding a current look. A nice short version will find these lines will have the French, by long look she can combine with Brooks design.

THE BOLD look, a more mature style than the baby look that shows its femininity, is seen in shades by Oscar de la Renta for June Devere.

The lines are young-looking, but they may long justify their name as a good example of what came down that from Brooks to Paul's there. There's no statement, no show, no distinction to break its strong line.

Summer Beauty Hints For Expectant Mothers

The woman who is pregnant during it is a summer probably looks forward to two things - the birth of her child and a good summer. But she can enjoy the summer and look her prettiest with a few low-cost tricks used daily to make life more comfortable.

NATURALLY, you're not going to wear revealing, baggy styles and open-toed shoes. That doesn't mean, however, that you can't look lovely and demure. Choose light-colored, beach styles and maternity-looking styles that only feel as you always have. The maternity styles probably will do more for you than anything else, by special need hair providers and hair oils in aerosol to spray off a scorching heat or shower. During a summer pregnancy, you will find that a little splash goes a long way. Select a good moisturizing cream for a foundation, a light, creamy lipstick and deodorant your complexion.

IF YOU had a bit drowsy during the day, splash your face with cold water and rinse for 10 minutes to a half hour.
